SUGAR MEN HELD.
Havemeyer and Seales Arraigned in the Criminal Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Sugar Trust officials, Messrs. Havemeyer and Seales were arraigned in the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia before Judge Cole today and pleaded not guilty to the indictments against them for refusing to answer questions of the Senate Sugar Trust Investigating Committee. The proceedings were brief and rather formal, since the arrangements took place after the usual hour for holding court. Nathan Wilson represented the trust of officers, and Dist. Atty. Blaney and T. L. Jeffries, his associate, represented the government.

Wilson announced that his client would waive the reading of the indictment, and pleaded not guilty. He reserved the right to withdraw the plea in seven days and demur to the indictment. The District Attorney assented to this. Bail was fixed at $5000 in each case. A. K. Kling, formerly a special agent of the treasury, went on the bonds, and the defendants were free again.

AN ARREST AT NEW YORK.
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Allen Lewis Seymour, a stockbroker, was arrested today at his office under an indictment found against him in Washington for refusing to answer questions put to him by the Senate committee that investigated the charges that Senators had speculated in Sugar Trust shares while the tariff bill was pending.

A MATTER OF DIVISION.
The Peculiar Will of a Divinity Student to be Contested.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The courts will soon air a contest over a peculiar will left by Isaac Clarence Marsh, a young divinity student, who had inherited $200,000 from his mother. He left his father, three uncles, a grandmother and one sister, $1 each and a few old family blankets in his will. The entire estate is left in trust to another sister and James Marsh, another uncle. If either dies, his or her share is to revert to the survivor. When this trust lapses the fund goes to a theological institute in Wisconsin, the Church of Ascension in Chicago, and the Episcopal bishop of Chicago.

This will was made in Pasadena, Cal., shortly before young Marsh died there. The extreme religious views of Marsh, amounting almost to fanaticism, had, it is said, estranged him considerably from his father, who is a man of the world. Though no open rupture has taken place, their relations were strained, which may account for the absence of the father's name from the will. He and the slighted sister will try to break the will.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.
Defenseless Kentucky Miners Attacked by Strikers.

ASHLAND (Ky.), Oct. 18.—Further reports come in tonight of the bloody attack upon defenseless miners at the mines of the Straight Creek Coal Company, in Carbon county, this morning. The men were ambushed, while en route to their work, and seven are reported to have been hit by bullets from Winchester. Jack Marcum is fatally injured, and John Morris dangerously wounded. The others are seriously injured.

An attempt by the company to work non-union men in opposition to the demands of the union mine-workers is the cause of the trouble, and more is feared.

China Raising an Internal Loan—She Prefers Peace, but Will Resist Invasion—Chile Refuses to Sell Warships.

Associated Press London—wire Service.
TIENTSIN, Oct. 18.—(By Asiatic Cable.) A dispatch from Port Arthur dated October 16 states that the Japanese abandoned Thorntown Haven, and proceeded to Ping-Yang inlet, which they are strongly fortifying.

It is reported in native circles here that a great battle had been fought between Chinese and Japanese forces north of Ya-Loo River on Monday, October 15. No details are obtainable. The Chinese authorities claim not to have any knowledge of such a battle.

KOREA AND EGYPT.
PARIS, Oct. 18.—The Siecle in an article discussing the Eastern war says France cannot discuss the Korean question while the British hold Egypt, the gate of Asia. If any conferences take place in the East, negotiations between the powers regarding them must be preceded by an arrangement looking to the evacuation of Egypt.

DESIRE PEACE BUT WILL FIGHT.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—A Times Tientsin correspondent says China desires peace, because, though aware of her immense reserves of strength, she would willingly avoid the sacrifices, risks and expense of bringing them into action. She will, however, face a long war resolutely, and will rally such forces as will render a Japanese conquest impossible though the effort may exhaust both sides.

WARSHIPS NOT FOR SALE.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—A dispatch to the Times from Santiago says the Chilean government has finally decided to refuse China's offer to purchase a despatch.

THE JAPANESE PARLIAMENT MEETS.
HIROSHIMA (Japan), Oct. 18.—A session of Parliament was held here today, the speech from the throne being made by the Mikado in person. His Majesty said he had decided to convene an extraordinary session and had given directions to his ministers to submit for deliberation of the Diet a bill providing for increased expenditures of the army and navy.

He declared that he was greatly pained that China should have forgotten her duties in regard to the maintenance of peace in the East in conjunction with Japan. "She having brought about the present state of affairs," he said, "and hostilities having been commenced, we will not stop until we have attained our objects."

A SURPRISE FOILED.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—A special from Shanghai says that the Japanese at Ya-Loo River tried to surprise the Chinese under cover of darkness, but failed and retired after a desultory firing at long range.

FEAR AT WEI-HAI-WEI.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—A special from Shanghai says it is reported that China is raising an internal 7 per cent loan of $30,000,000.

Wei-Hai-Wei is being hurriedly strengthened. The troops in the forest there fear a sudden Japanese naval descent. Reports have been received of a serious rebellion in Poo-Chow.

THOSE OPEN PALMS.
The Soda-water Manufacturers Collected for Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A number of clerks were in attendance at the hearing of the Lexow committee today when Counsel Moos called Treasurer Laight of the Soda Water Manufacturers' Association to the stand. Laight was questioned concerning the methods of the association to raise money to induce legislation and make presents to the police captains because many of the members kept their soda-water stands in the street. He admitted a good deal of money was expended to protect stand-keepers from police interference, but could not remember the details of many of the transactions.

Capt. Copeland of the harbor police was called to the stand shortly after recess. He denied that he had given orders to subordinate officers to refuse to allow the counsel for the committee to examine the station blotter. Most finally succeeded in procuring the blotter and called attention to an entry made on June 13, which stated that a citizen had reported to the sergeant that a man named H. R. Klein was going around collecting money for excursion parties.

The man said he was acting under instructions from Capt. Copeland. Copeland claimed he had investigated the matter, but that he could not find any person by the name of Klein. He was then questioned concerning the violations of the excise law in the harbor. He admitted violations were going on, but said it was useless to try to bring the offenders to law.

The patrol operated by the police department is a large boat and when the officers reached any of these excursion boats they could find any traces of liquor selling.

Mrs. Kittie Canech, a poor Slav woman, told a story of a banker getting her money away from her. She had secured the arrest of the banker, but the case had been postponed again and again, and lawyers and police officials were getting all her money.

ANOTHER DEAD

The Fourth Victim of the Militia.

Quiet Now at Washington Courthouse.

The Troops Withdrawn and the Prisoner Taken to Columbus.

A Graphic Description of the Scenes at the Jail—The Prisoner Taken into Court and Pleads Guilty.

Associated Press London—wire Service.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—A Commercial-Gazette special from Washington Courthouse says:

"Blood has been spilled at Washington Courthouse and it will rest with an investigation to determine whether or not the troops were authorized to resort to this last step in the discharge of a sworn duty. Whatever may be the result of this finding, it is doubtful if the people of Fayette county will ever regard those who died last night at the hands of the militia as other than martyrs in a righteous cause, although some, at least, of them when they received their death wounds, were engaged in unlawful acts."

"In the case of the negro, William Jasper or Dolby, the usually conservative and law-abiding citizens of this county lost all sight of the legal aspects of the case and could see but the scoundrel and the gray-haired woman who was his victim. Each had in his own mind decreed death as the punishment of the guilty wretch, and to enforce that judgment he came here armed to resist and overpower if need be all the authorities created and maintained by himself."

A special describing the afternoon at Washington Courthouse says that the soldiers had easy duty guarding the jail, the greater number of citizens remaining on the opposite side of the courthouse until 3:30 o'clock. By that time the people had learned that it was intended to have the negro arraigned and sentenced in time to take him to Columbus, leaving here at 4:30.

Col. Cook was in the act of taking the prisoner from the jail to the courthouse to receive his sentence. The courthouse steps were cleared, and a wide passageway made to the jail for the escapee. Sentinels at the jail, however, with arms port, kept the line clear. There was menace in the restless movement of the mob. When all was ready the side door of the jail opened, and Deputies Duck and Caldwell, with the plumed negro between them, stepped to the entrance. There was an instant's hushed silence. There were cries of "Don't let him go up; get him; kill him!" and the mob rushed toward the sentries. The latter took the position of charge, and then stood firm. The wave broke only when sentry Martin was hurled by Sheriff Cook, Col. Cook, Maj. Sheeks and other officers, rapidly pushed the negro up the stone steps near the top of which occurred the most serious trouble.

Here the most determined attempt was made to force the soldiers were forced to use their bayonets. Among the foremost was the gray-haired Henry Kirk, a brother-in-law of the victim. He pushed forward until he touched the legs of the negro when a slide blow from a bayonet tumbled him down the steps. The negro was hustled up the stairs into the courtroom. When Jasper was called upon to rise and plead he had to be assisted to his feet. He made repeated attempts to speak and finally whispered: "Guilty" in a barely audible tone.

The trial which left at 11:30 last night with 400 troops of the First Regiment arrived at Washington Courthouse at 3:30 this morning, having consumed four hours in traveling seventy-seven miles. It arrived at Midland at 1:30, which is thirty-three miles from Washington. The train moved cautiously these thirty-three miles, and reached Washington Courthouse at 3:30 this morning. Arrived, the soldiers found the streets deserted and that the lynchers had given up the contest. The negro, William Dolby, alias Jasper, alias Martin, was placed between the open-order ranks of the militia and marched to the train, which started for Columbus.

DOLBY AT COLUMBUS.
COLUMBUS (O.), Oct. 18.—Jasper Dolby, the negro sentenced at Washington Courthouse to twenty years' imprisonment for a criminal assault on Mrs. Mary C. Boyde, an old white woman, was landed in the penitentiary at 7 o'clock this morning. He was escorted by Sheriff Cook and Deputy Busick, accompanied on the train by troops.

The prisoner was taken from the train at Dennison avenue and walked to the prison. The military remained in the cars, and were carried to Union station. All the troops have left Washington Courthouse. A Columbus Dispatch reporter who came with the train says that after midnight things quieted down. Citizens had nearly all gone home, yet many persons stood on the neighboring corners until a much later hour discussing the affair, as may be readily imagined in connection with such a terrible sensation as the killing of two men and wounding of eleven others by the militia.

The military until 3:30 a.m. numbered less than one hundred men. Hundreds of men who crowded against the troops who were crowded into or about the courthouse. The small band kept up a determined front for twelve or fifteen hours. Finally, when the First Regiment from Cincinnati and two companies of the Fourteenth at Columbus arrived

A MISSING KEY.
St. Joe Police Interrogate Richard Russell of Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18.—The police have been hunting all day for Richard Russell, the colored man who once carried the key to Mosher's cellar, that the murderers of Peterson dropped. Russell has not been home since Tuesday night, the night of the murder. An Associated Press reporter found Russell in St. Joseph tonight.

RUSSELL'S STORY.
ST. JOSEPH (Mo.), Oct. 18.—Richard Russell, who carried the key to the cellar of A. A. Mosher's house, where Peterson was murdered, is in this city, stopping at White, at No. 704 South Fourth street. He has been in attendance at the Baptist Association for the past two days, but is not a delegate. He was seen tonight and questioned in regard to the missing key. He stated that he left Kansas City at 6 o'clock on Tuesday night, and came here to visit his brother-in-law for a few days. He explained that about a year ago, while in the employ of Mosher, he one day gave the key to another colored man named Ernest Miller, to bring out a garden hose. He said Miller kept the key, and when he asked him to return it, claimed that he had lost it. Miller, he says, is now in the employ of a gentleman named Martin, who resides on Thirty-seventh and Boulevard, Hyde Park.

Mrs. Russell also claimed that he knew nothing of the murder until today, when he read the account in the papers. Tonight Chief Broder sent a policeman to the house of White and had Russell brought to the central station, where he was closely questioned. He told the same story as given above. After this he was allowed to go, as no papers or orders had been received by Chief Broder from Kansas City. He was kept under surveillance awaiting further developments.

BLANKET (Ind.), Oct. 18.—Miss Anna Lonsberry, newspaper writer and bicyclist, who is making a tour of the world with the stipulation that she earn $5000 on the way, arrived here last evening. She expects to reach New York November 10. She wears bloomers, rides a Chicago wheel, and has traveled 1500 miles on her trip.

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—Thomas Black, the murderer of Charles Bridwell and William Jeffries, and would-be murderer of Detective Cuddehe, was today found guilty of murder in the first degree, and the death penalty was imposed. This was not done, however, until he had made two desperate attempts to escape, and had forced the Sheriff to have him taken into court by main force.

Black was ugly at the long-drawn trial, and watched for the first opportunity to escape, and he thought it presented itself, while he was being taken upstairs to the courtroom between two guards. One guard had a pair of nippers around his right wrist, and the other was walking at his side. Suddenly Black struck the man who had the nippers on the jaw, knocking him backward down stairs. The other guard jumped after them and grabbed Black by the collar. A fierce fight ensued, in which the prisoner was finally felled by a blow on the right temple from a revolver in the hands of the guard he had first struck. Blood covered the marble floor at the base of the stairs, and the prisoner left a trail of blood on the way back to the jailer's office.

After he was ready to go again to court he got sullen and refused to move. Nippers were put on each hand, but he still refused to move. Suddenly he sprang to his feet, shot both arms out and then commenced to kick and bite the guards. Jailer Munroe tried to grab him by the throat, but Black got the collar. A fierce fight followed, in which the prisoner was finally felled by a blow on the right temple from a revolver in the hands of the guard he had first struck. Blood covered the marble floor at the base of the stairs, and the prisoner left a trail of blood on the way back to the jailer's office.

The jury was out thirty-five minutes, and brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree, and imposed the death penalty. Black's record before he commenced killing people here is still a secret, which he has not divulged to even his attorney.

SCATTERED LOGS.

Tug Monarch Reports that the Big Raft is Lost.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The Monarch, which towed the mammoth log-raft over the Columbia River bar on Friday last and started with it for this port, arrived here this morning with the raft a total loss. The raft went to pieces on the second day out. Capt. Thompson states that he never before experienced such heavy weather. He safely crossed the Columbia bar with his tow, but after proceeding southward a short distance encountered terrific seas. The Monarch could not budge the raft an inch. She hung on, however, and did not lose ground. It was off Tillamook Head that the raft broke up.

Once started the huge mass was not long in going to pieces. When the final collapse came 125 fathoms of heavy chain, with which the raft had been secured, and to which the towline was attached, went to the bottom. This served to anchor the tug, which, tossed by the heavy seas, was for the time in a perilous position. After the tug had hung there for an hour the line was finally cut and the chain and hawser allowed to go to the bottom. The Monarch then steamed for this port. Capt. Thompson believes that in ordinary weather he could have brought the raft into port, but in the storm which prevailed on the Oregon coast it was impossible for the tugmen to tell anything about the condition of their tow. The raft contained 10,000 spars and piles, valued at $25,000. Capt. Thompson says the Monarch encountered no wreckage that might have been from the missing ship Ivanhoe or any other vessel.

ANOTHER "BUSTED BOOM." TACOMA, Oct. 18.—It is reported that the steamer City of Kingston ran into a boom of logs on Wednesday morning off Westport and broke through the boom chains, tearing four sections of the logs apart, and setting them on fire. The tug was blown down by the logs, and the pilot of the Kingston claimed he did not hear them.

In the evening the Grand Chapter witnessed the exemplification of the work by Columbus Chapter No. 117 of this city, which was done in such a manner as to win high commendation from those who witnessed it.

MEN WITH A VALISE.

Two in Stockton Thought to be the Train-robbers.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

STOCKTON, Oct. 18.—Two men whom it is thought may be those who held up the train near Sacramento the other night and secured $50,000, were here tonight. Attorney Ed Thompson was leaving a house in the northern part of town where he had been spending the evening and noticed two men sneaking along the street with a valise which they were carrying between them and which seemed very heavy. The men set the valise down to take a rest and the attorney watched them from the darkness caused by the shade of trees. The larger of the two men saw him and started toward him. Thompson started down town and the man followed, leaving his companion with the valise. When the postoffice was reached, the man who was following walked away toward the river and Thompson notified the police, who are now scouring the city. It is thought the men may have the money in the valise and are trying to get away from here by boat.

METHODIST COLLEGES.

Action of the New Board of Trustees Not Liked.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 18.—When a new board of trustees was chosen by the Methodist Episcopal Conference at Pacific Grove, the students, alumni and faculty of the University of the Pacific were elated over the prospect, for, while the much-talked-of unification of the Napa College and the university was effected, the general belief was that the latter institution was to be built up and made the great center of learning for the Methodists of the Coast.

A severe shock has been experienced, however, and much indignation is felt on account of the action of the trustees, which is believed, will tend greatly to hurt the institution. At a recent meeting of the trustees it was decided to call the combined schools the "San Francisco University." The present University of the Pacific is to be known as the "College of San Jose." These changes, it is said by friends of the institution here, are most unwise. As the University of the Pacific, the local college, has flourished for nearly half a century, but it is feared that the new scheme will end its prosperity. The trustees hope to have a lively revolt. The faculty, alumni and students are working against the scheme. A big indignation meeting will be held at the Young Men's Christian Association's hall this evening, admission to which will be by invitation only. There will be present many leading members of the alumni and influential supporters of the college. The result of this meeting will probably be that the trustees will be called upon to reconsider their action, and if they refuse it is possible the court will be appealed to should their plans be carried out.

THEY ARE LOTTERIES. Postoffice Authorities Shut Down on Suit and Watch Clubs.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The post-office inspectors have determined to stop the advertising of watch clubs, suit clubs and other such organizations by sending circulars through the United States mails. It is the opinion of the inspectors that the managers of these clubs are violating the law, which forbids the sending of lottery matter through the mails. Three men have been arrested and taken before Commissioner Hancock, who held them for trial. They are Joseph Field, C. H. Newhaus and Hardner London. Each has been conducting a suit club.

The methods of these men are all alike. They get thirty-eight men, each of whom contracts to pay the tailors $1 a month for thirty-eight months for a suit of clothes, provided, however, that the payments come as soon as the suit is drawn. Every month one contract is drawn from the bunch of contracts, and the man whose name is on that contract gets his suit at once. In some cases the purchaser of a suit gets his clothes for $2 or $3, if he is lucky and his name is drawn. Others, less fortunate, have to wait a couple of years for their new suits.

LARCENY BY BAILEY.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

TACOMA, Oct. 18.—J. N. Thompson, ex-Sheriff of Walla Walla county, was arrested last night on a warrant from Portland. The complainant is J. M. Thompson, who charges "larceny by bailment." McFarland maintains complete innocence. He says Thompson, a patent-right dealer, gave him a note for collection amounting to $150, signed by Bert Winans of Walla Walla. Winans refused to pay, and McFarland sent the note to Brown Bros., notifying, he says, Thompson to call for it. He claims, comprised the alleged larceny. He charges Thompson with seeking to punish him for some personal grievance. Thompson is here, and will remain in jail with McFarland tomorrow. McFarland is a Walla Walla county pioneer.

THE DALLAS ROBBERY.

A Denial that the Suspected Employees Were Arrested.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

THE DALLAS (Or.) Oct. 18.—Local officers now deny that the arrest of N. Hill, agent of the Pacific Express Company, Messenger Telford and Watchman Gibbons for complicity in the robbery of the company's office at this place on Saturday night has occurred. Notice was given of the arrest by one of the city officers, and it was supposed to be good authority. The fact remains, however, that Hill is still relieved from duty at the office, pending an investigation of his case. He is leaving the box containing the money on the office-floor so poorly protected. The town is full of detectives who are following several different clues, but they seem as far from a solution of the mystery as when the robbery was first reported.

A DISTILLERY SEIZED.

Seven Hundred Gallons of Unstamped Brandy Found.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

FRISCO, Oct. 18.—Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Griffin today seized a distillery and plant at the Lind Vineyard, five miles east of Fresno, for illicit distilling. For years, the property, consisting of 140 acres, has been under the management of A. P. Adams, but is now run in his daughter's name. The distillery has been under surveillance by the revenue officers for a number of months past. A search of the premises this morning revealed several barrels of brandy hidden under vines in the vineyard. Upon further search more hidden brandy was found. In all about seven hundred gallons of unstamped brandy was found, and the search is now complete.

HAS DONE ITS WORK.

The Australian Black Beetle Dying for Lack of Sustenance.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Word comes from Santa Barbara county that the black beetle, which was imported from Australia in 1892 to destroy the black scale, is in danger of dying from lack of sustenance, so well has it done its work in that county. Steps to transplant the insect will be taken at once, and it is probable that some of them will be brought to this city to destroy the orchard-pest of this part of the State.

The work of this parasite has been on the whole very effective and has saved the fruit-growers of this State over $100,000 so far.

BEET-SUGAR PRODUCERS.

Officers Elected at San Francisco—Denunciatory Resolutions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The American Beet-sugar Producers' Association held their annual meeting here today and elected the following officers: President, Henry T. Ozard of Grand Island, Neb.; vice-president, Thomas R. Cutler of Lehi, Utah; secretary, James Coffin of San Francisco.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing the Democratic party for enacting a tariff law, which is declared to be antagonistic to the sugar producing interests of America, and "dishonorable, uneconomic and unpatriotic."

IT IS THE TARIFF.

British Columbia Shipping Lumber to San Francisco.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 18.—An American schooner has arrived at Westminister to load lumber at Brunette Mill for San Francisco. This is the first cargo of lumber shipped from British Columbia to American coast ports, but the changes in the tariff have caused lumbermen to make an experimental shipment and, if successful, several shipments will follow. It is claimed that the British Columbia mills can easily compete with Puget Sound for the Coast trade.

On Sunday next, 100 Norwegian farmers from Wisconsin are expected to arrive here en route to the Bella Coola Valley, 300 miles north, where they will settle. They are under the leadership of a native citizen, who selected the land and made arrangements with the government regarding the terms of settlement. They are leaving Wisconsin owing to the severe winters.

DISHONORABLE DISCHARGE.

Co. G., N. G. C. is Fighting Against the Governor's Order.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

SPOKANE, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the members of Co. G., N. G. C., discharged by Gov. McGraw, it was decided to contest the order of the Governor. It was contended that the Governor had the authority to discharge them on the finding of the military court of inquiry, as was done, but it is contended that the Governor cannot discharge them dishonorably and disbar them from further service in the Guard. This claim is based on sec. 513 of the National Guard regulations, which provides "dishonorable discharges, or discharges in any form as to prevent re-election, reappointment or re-enlistment shall be given only in accordance with sentence of courts-martial, or company courts of discipline." No court-martial or company court of discipline was held in this case. Several will test the matter at once for applying for re-enlistment.

Hanged Himself With a Towel.

STOCKTON, Oct. 18.—Frank Shoemaker, a German aged 45 years, who was committed to the asylum here from Sacramento about a month ago, hanged himself at that institution today. He had been asking for his discharge, which was refused him. Today another patient in his ward was discharged, and Shoemaker became so despondent that he committed suicide. He hanged himself with a long towel in the bathroom.

Closing Business.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 18.—Today the newly-elected officers of the Grand Encampment were installed by Past Grand Patriarch Leonard. The drill trophy, which has been won three consecutive times by Santa Rosa Canton of the Patriarch's Militant, will remain with them, and a new trophy will be obtained for future contests. The Grand Encampment adjourned to meet at Stockton on the third Tuesday in October of next year.

The Case of John Orr.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—Capt. Andrew Baxter of the British ship Rosshire, which arrived in port on Wednesday, today certified to Maj. Allen, British Vice-Consul, the facts concerning the case of John Orr, who committed suicide on the Horn on August 15. Every effort was made to revive the man, who deliberately jumped overboard, but he sank before he could be rescued. He is supposed to have been insane.

Killed and Eaten.

OROVILLE, Oct. 18.—An old resident of Yankee Hill, Goldie Fresh, went out hunting two weeks ago and was never seen alive again. Yesterday his dead body, partially devoured by hogs, was found in the woods. It is supposed he stumbled and fell, fatally wounding himself, as he always carried his gun in full cock. One barrel of the shotgun was empty.

The Worden Case.

WOODLAND, Oct. 18.—Three more jurors were secured in the case of S. D. Worden, making nine already named to try the case. One special venire has been exhausted, and another ordered for tomorrow. The jury will be secured this week and the taking of testimony will probably not be commenced before Monday.

Dead in His Cabin.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—Edward Fuller, who lived alone on a government claim in Proctor Valley, was found dead in his cabin yesterday. Being subject to heart disease his death is ascribed to that cause. The body was brought to this city today for interment.

Rain at Nevada City.

NEVADA CITY, Oct. 18.—It has been raining all day, and if indications are to be relied on the people of this vicinity will experience a very hard winter, and are making preparations for the long winter months.

Fire at Sissons.

SISSONS, Oct. 18.—The Mt. Shasta Box Factory was damaged by fire to the extent of $10,000 last night. The cause of the fire is unknown. The insurance will only cover half the loss.

THE LAUGH ON HIM.

A Practical Joker Paid in Kind on His Wedding Day.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

CLEVELAND (O.) Oct. 18.—One of the most exciting weddings that ever took place in this city was that of Attorney J. F. Goff last evening. Goff is over 40 years old, and through a series of practical jokes upon his friends who have preceded him in the matrimonial relation. Last night they "got even" with a vengeance. While the ceremony was in progress one of the conspirators found his way into the groom's room, stole his traveling-suit and hid it in the barn. Goff borrowed an ulster from his newly-acquired brother-in-law and wore it to the train over his dress suit. The trip to the depot was made in a street car, another conspirator having, with his wife, palmed themselves off on the carriage-driver as the bride and groom, being driven to the depot. Goff and his bride, who was Miss Frances Southworth, moved in the highest circles.

RAN OVER DYNAMITE.

Three Cartridges Placed on the B. and O. Track.

Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—A Baltimore and Ohio accommodation train ran over a dynamite cartridge, and killed a local spot about fifteen miles from Pittsburgh. The range of one wheel was blown off and one end of the coach wrecked. As the train had nearly reached the end of its trip, there were few passengers aboard and no one was injured. Two more powerful dynamite cartridges were found on the rails. Had the train been traveling fast it would have exploded all three cartridges and been totally wrecked. It is believed the intention was to wreck the mail and express through train from the east, due a few minutes later. Arrests are expected.

THE CIRCUS IN TOWN.

Some of the Things that May be Seen,

And Some Special Reasons Why Nobody Can Afford to Miss the Exhibitions of the New Grand Syndicate Shows and Paris Hippodrome.

There is really a wonderful amount to be seen in a show such as the one that will exhibit in this city today and Saturday. It is in the truest sense an object lesson that few, and especially the young, can afford to miss. An opportunity to see and study a large and remarkable collection of wild animals, to say nothing about the other features of a great show, is a thing the people of this country are not favored with every day, and when such an opportunity presents itself, it is not the part of good sense to stop the joking about circus rhetoric and circus exaggerations on the billboards, and to profit by seeing the many things of real interest that are to be seen? Instead of taking it all as a big joke, and the exhibition grounds as a place merely to be amused, would it not be more sensible to take the matter a little bit seriously and extract some good out of it? There are some features of this great aggregation, to use the accepted phraseology, that are said to be instructive in the highest degree. In its ring performances it is a sort of congress of all nations and races. There are performers from every quarter of the globe, each group presenting something distinctly characteristic of its own land or country—Europe, Asia, Africa, the remote isles of the sea—and the whole constituting a lesson in human nature and ways never to be forgotten.

In the menagerie is the same diversity of animal life, of rare and strange birds and beasts, and like opportunities for the study of natural history. And nothing in this world is surer than this, that no sooner will this great compilation be gone than hundreds of people, awaking to the fact that they have missed it, will be regretting that they did not see and study it while they had the opportunity. Speaking of the menagerie, one feature of it that seems to have captivated all the newspaper people on the Coast is the baby Bengal tiger, only three months old. He is said to be the very apotheosis of grace and beauty, but as fierce as though he had lived in the jungles of India a dozen years. The principal food of the tiger in India is cattle, deer, wild hog, peafowl, and occasionally human beings. This young monster is fed on live chickens.

A tigress gives birth to two to five and even six cubs. She is a most affectionate and attached mother, and generally guards and trains her young with the most watchful solicitude. In a wild state, they remain with her until nearly full-grown, or about the second year, when they are able to kill for themselves, and begin life on their own account. While they remain with her she is peculiarly vicious and aggressive, defending them with the greatest courage and energy, and when robbed of them is terrible in her rage, but she has been known to eat them when starved. As soon as they begin to require other food than her milk, she kills for them, teaching them to do so for themselves by practicing on small animals, such as deer and young calves or pigs. At this time she is wanton and extravagant in her cruelty, killing apparently for the gratification of her ferocious and bloodthirsty nature, and perhaps to excite and instruct the young ones, and it is not till they are thoroughly capable of killing their own food that she separates from them.

The young tigers are far more destructive than the old. They will kill three or four cows at a time, while the older and more experienced rarely kill more than one, and then at intervals of three or four days or a week. It is fascinating to watch the little brute with the show pounce on and devour his victims of live chickens. He is a true tiger, bloodthirsty and cruel as any of his progenitors.

A pleasant spectacle than the tiger is a troupe of six performing Alaska seals. To see them go through their awkward antics is one of the most amusing things in the world, and nobody should miss it. And here again comes in a valuable object lesson for the student. Although there would seem little in the structure or habits of the seal to fit it by nature for a pet, there is perhaps no wild animal which attaches itself so readily to the person who takes care of and feeds it. They are remarkably docile and easily trained when in captivity, and learn the most amazing tricks readily. They appear to have an insatiable curiosity, and it is a very odd and well-attested observation that they are strongly attracted by musical sounds.

An interesting comparison may be made of these seals with those we are accustomed to seeing at Catalina Island, or on the Seal Rocks at San Francisco. The latter are hair seals. The Alaska seals are fur seals. Their skin has an under woolly down, over which is a covering of long, smooth and shining hair, shedding water by an oily secretion and offering no resistance in swimming. They can remain under water twenty minutes or longer, and they have the highest animal heat found in mammals.

There are many other things that might well be said showing why it will be a good thing to attend the exhibitions of the Great Syndicate Shows and Paris Hippodrome today and Saturday, but perhaps this will answer for the present. The street pageant will take place at 10 o'clock this morning, and the exhibitions at 1 and 7 p.m., opposite the Santa Fe depot.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

A Man Hurt by the Hook and Ladder Truck.

A brush fire south of First street and not far from the river caused an alarm to be turned in from First and Alameda streets at 1 o'clock this morning.

As the hook and ladder truck was rounding the corner at Commercial and Alameda streets a man named C. F. Walters attempted to jump onto the truck. He had caught the tail of the truck, and in some way he lost his hold and fell.

Whether the hind wheel passed over any part of his body no one seems to know. But he was badly hurt, and was removed to his room in the Alameda Block. His right arm was a good deal bruised, but at the time of writing it could not be ascertained whether he is internally injured.

AN OIL BOOM.

WILKESBARRE (Pa.) Oct. 18.—The fact has just been made public that the Standard Oil Company and the Eastern Pennsylvania Oil Company and Standard Oil Company have purchased large tracts of oil fields in Susquehanna, Columbia and Luzerne and Schuylkill counties. Prospectors have been at work more than a year, but the matter was kept quiet and many farmers were induced to part with their lands at the market figures. In Huntington Valley, Luzerne county, the operations of the prospectors aroused suspicion, and the farmers there are demanding fabulous prices for their land.

The Tacoma Fair.

TACOMA, Oct. 18.—From Portland on the south, Vancouver, B. C., on the north, Spokane on the east, and Port Townsend on the west, people are coming to the Inland Fair tomorrow and Saturday. But two more days of the big exposition remain. On Saturday night the gates will be closed for good. The railroad and steamboat companies for these two days have made the lowest excursion rates in the history from all over the Northwest, and large excursions are being formed as a result.

Train-robber Seized. CUMBERLAND (Md.) Oct. 18.—C. J. Sautrey, arrested for the Virginia train robbery, was brought before Judge Hoffman at 4 o'clock today for examination. Lawyer Thomas of Baltimore represented the Adams Express Company, and requested a postponement of the hearing until Saturday. The prisoner's counsel, Messrs. Richmond and Macbeth, offered no objection, and the request was granted, and the hearing set down for Saturday at 4 p.m.

AS FOR THE MEN...

THE FAIR AND RACES

The Usual Large Crowds in Attendance.

The Live Stock Parade in the Morning Was an Attractive Feature.

The Racing Programme an Exceptionally Good One—Several Exciting Events—Award of Premiums.

In spite of the threatening aspect of the weather fully six thousand people took chances on rain and went out to the Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon to witness the fourth day's racing under the auspices of the Sixth District Agricultural Association. Fortunately, the clouds dispersed about 1 o'clock and the sun came out in plenty of time to warm the air a little before the evening sea breezes sprang up, or there would undoubtedly have been a much smaller attendance. Those who went out to the park were, however, amply repaid for their trouble, for an excellent day's sport was provided. Although no phenomenal time was recorded, the track being slow, several exciting finishes were furnished in the various events, and the handicaps, for instance, being one of the prettiest imaginable, the first three horses being only heads apart under the wire.

In the defeat of Pescador in the third race the talent received a stunning blow, from which they were unable to recover during the day, but as the handicaps had things their own way almost invariably every day, so far, they have little to complain of on that score.

THE STOCK PARADE.

The main feature of the fair, outside of the races, was the grand parade of all the stock on exhibition at 10 a. m., which, however, was witnessed by very few others than the exhibitors, officials and race-track habitués.

The order of the procession, which consisted of thoroughbred horses, stallions of various ages, mares, foals and geldings; standard-bred horses, in the same order; roadsters, horses for all purposes, driving horses, double and single; carriage teams, ponies, double and single; saddle horses, draft horses, stallions, geldings, mares and foals, mules and jacks.

As the equine exhibits were the largest and best represented, and the majority of the spectators were horsemen, it was only natural that the first part of the procession should attract most attention and comment.

The cattle display, which consisted of Jerseys, Alderneys, Guernseys and Holsteins exclusively, was somewhat disappointing, as there was little or no competition in many of the classes.

The Races.

SIX WELL-CONTESTED EVENTS—THE KLAMATH-OTTINGER TROT.

The day's sport commenced with the unfinished special trot between Klamath, hitched to the fine-old "bike," and Ottinger, the fine-old "bike." That the Santa Ana horse had a clinch on the race was so generally believed that not a cent went into the pool-boxes when the auctioneers opened up for business. The judges, however, evidently had other ideas on the subject, for when the veteran Jim Dustin handled the ribbons behind the Northern crack, Tom Keating having been set down. The result, however, proved conclusively that there was no jobbery, for Klamath beat his game little opponent easily, although the latter was driven out for all he was worth.

Fourth heat—It was 1 o'clock before the pair went down for the start, but very little time was wasted in getting the horses ready. The third attempt they were sent away on even terms. Although Ottinger was pretty far out, he held his own with Klamath to the quarter in 1:06 1/4, and then he trotted to the half in 1:06 1/4, and then for the first time did Ottinger show in the lead, but he was not to be so easily won, however, he lost his advantage, and the pair came into the stretch together. A pretty race home ensued, but Klamath outdistanced his opponent, and drawing away from him, won the race by an open length. Time 2:14 1/4. Betting: Klamath, 1 to 10; Ottinger, 5 to 2. Mutuals paid $6.50.

THE FUTURITY.

The next race was the Los Angeles Futurity for two-year-olds, at five furlongs, and there were five candidates for its honors, viz.: W. W. Buell's Flora, Al Patterson's Rob Roy, Palmetto Buell's Lottie Collins, and W. S. Maben's Red Head. The first two were single out by the talent, and backed in the pools at $5, as against $11 for the field, and $25 for Huene. That their judgment was well founded was shown by the result, which the favorite won; but the judges evidently did not consider that Huene and Lottie Collins were ridden to win, for both Ward and Keane were suspended pending investigation.

No time was lost in getting the youngsters off, and when the flag fell Lottie Collins jumped to the front, and was ahead of Huene, Palmetto and Rob Roy at her heels in the order named. At the upper turn, however, Lottie Collins dropped back and Red Head began to show his head. The favorite soon collapsed him, however, and at the head of the stretch he was in the lead. Donahue shook him up a little a sixteenth of a mile, but he was not to be so easily won, however, he lost his advantage, and drawing away from him, won the race by a length. Time 1:03. Betting: Huene, 1 to 10; Lottie Collins, 5 to 2. Mutuals paid $6.50.

SIERRA MADRE HANDICAP.

The third event on the card was the Sierra Madre Handicap, for all ages, at three-quarters of a mile, which J. G. Maben's Santa Fe, C. N. Tupper's Pescador, Al Patterson's Rob Roy, and W. S. Maben's Red Head were the competitors. Pescador was a hot favorite in the pools at $20, but there was a big following who were sweet on Centinela at $18, on the strength of her victory Tuesday, and the race was snapped up with avidity at $13. This was without doubt the best bet of the day, for Santa Fe was the only horse to show any sign of staying power, and he was the only one to finish the race. Too much credit cannot be given to Handicapper Benjamin for the manner in which he gauged the relative merits of the horses in this race, for as the result of his judgment, three of the quartette finished heads apart, after a mile and a half, and Santa Fe was the only one to finish the race. The flag fell to a pretty start at the very first break, Centinela was the first to show in the lead, and he was the only one to finish the race. THREE-YEAR-OLD TROT.

A trio of fine-looking youngsters appeared to contest for the next event, the three-year-old trot, in G. W. Ford's Neerut, C. W. R. Ford's Gallette and Ben Davis's Gallette, but the last-named filly so unmanably outclassed her opponents as to leave them no choice on the race. A few pools were sold at $20 for the Gossiper filly as against $6 for the field, but the last-named filly was not to be so easily won, however, she lost her advantage, and drawing away from him, won the race by a length. Time 2:14 1/4. Betting: Klamath, 1 to 10; Ottinger, 5 to 2. Mutuals paid $6.50.

First heat—The trio received the word at the second attempt, but Gallette went up in the air fifty feet from the wire and dropped back. Gallette's four went to the front at the turn, and carried Neerut to the quarter in 0:37, when he, too, broke. The favorite led the way along the backstretch, and the Gallette moving up into second place, and Neerut running for a sixteenth. At the half Gallette had a clear lead of ten lengths, and this order she maintained without an effort into the stretch. Durfee as well as to those who participated in it, but darkness prevented it from being decided. The starters were J. W. Nickerson's Dan N., G. W. Brown's Dan, W. F. Nordhoff's Texas, John Lowellyn's Silky and N. A. Covarrubias's Pat. The first named pacer was selected as first choice in the pools at $25, but there was plenty of field money at $2 to offset it, and the sales were brisk before the first heat. The upsetting of the favorite's sulky after the start caused him to lay up and gave Silky the first heat, but he won the next two in such style as to leave no doubt as to the result had not the accident occurred.

First heat—The horses were sent away on even terms at 4:45 o'clock, but at the first turn the favorite, who was third from the pole, swerved, and his sulky colliding with that of Nick Covarrubias, was overturned. Nickerson pluckily hung on to his lines until some of the rubbers went to his assistance, thus saving a serious runaway, and the favorite was taken off the track. The race was then taken to the quarter, with Silky close up, Texas a couple of lengths behind, and Pat bringing up the rear. As they were along the backstretch, Don broke badly, and at the head of the stretch Texas followed suit. Don was the first to recover himself, and he was sent after Silky, but the latter was too speedy for him, and won easily in 3:54 1/2. Texas was distanced.

Betting: Dan, 1 to 2; Texas, 3 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Silky, 3 to 1. Place: Silky, 1 to 2; Dan and Pat, 2 to 1 each. Mutuals paid $10.15.

Second heat—The four got off well together, but Silky and Pat broke at the first turn, and Dan N. went to the front, with Don close up. At the quarter post Dan N. had a clear lead of two lengths from Don, and five from Silky, but he broke on the backstretch, and Silky went to the front, when Don followed suit. Silky led the rest of the way into the stretch, when Dan N. was again in the lead, but he failed to drive her out, and the favorite just got in a length ahead. Both Pat and Don were distanced. Time 3:54 1/2.

Betting: Dan N., 2 to 5; Silky, 2 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Don, 8 to 1. Place: Dan N., 1 to 2; Silky, 2 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Don, 8 to 1. Mutuals paid $6.50.

Third heat—It was almost too dark to see the horses when the pair was sent off for the third heat, but Dan N. was in the lead, and although Silky stayed with him to the half, there was daylight between them at the upper turn. The mare closed with him again in the stretch, and a pretty race ensued, but he outfooted her as they came up for the finish, and won by an open length. Time 2:15 1/4.

Betting: Silky, 1 to 2; Dan N., 2 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Don, 8 to 1. Place: Silky, 1 to 2; Dan N., 2 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Don, 8 to 1. Mutuals paid $6.50.

Fourth heat—It was almost too dark to see the horses when the pair was sent off for the fourth heat, but Dan N. was in the lead, and although Silky stayed with him to the half, there was daylight between them at the upper turn. The mare closed with him again in the stretch, and a pretty race ensued, but he outfooted her as they came up for the finish, and won by an open length. Time 2:15 1/4.

THE 2:24 TROT.

Considerable interest was manifested in the next event, the 2:24 class trot, for four competitors were all Southern California bred horses, and the get of local stallions. They were C. Conant's Sir Credit, A. W. Buell's Flora, Al Patterson's Rob Roy, and W. S. Maben's Red Head. The first named pacer was selected as first choice in the pools at $25, but there was plenty of field money at $2 to offset it, and the sales were brisk before the first heat. The upsetting of the favorite's sulky after the start caused him to lay up and gave Silky the first heat, but he won the next two in such style as to leave no doubt as to the result had not the accident occurred.

First heat—The horses were sent away on even terms at 4:45 o'clock, but at the first turn the favorite, who was third from the pole, swerved, and his sulky colliding with that of Nick Covarrubias, was overturned. Nickerson pluckily hung on to his lines until some of the rubbers went to his assistance, thus saving a serious runaway, and the favorite was taken off the track. The race was then taken to the quarter, with Silky close up, Texas a couple of lengths behind, and Pat bringing up the rear. As they were along the backstretch, Don broke badly, and at the head of the stretch Texas followed suit. Don was the first to recover himself, and he was sent after Silky, but the latter was too speedy for him, and won easily in 3:54 1/2. Texas was distanced.

Betting: Dan, 1 to 2; Texas, 3 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Silky, 3 to 1. Place: Silky, 1 to 2; Dan and Pat, 2 to 1 each. Mutuals paid $10.15.

Second heat—The four got off well together, but Silky and Pat broke at the first turn, and Dan N. went to the front, with Don close up. At the quarter post Dan N. had a clear lead of two lengths from Don, and five from Silky, but he broke on the backstretch, and Silky went to the front, when Don followed suit. Silky led the rest of the way into the stretch, when Dan N. was again in the lead, but he failed to drive her out, and the favorite just got in a length ahead. Both Pat and Don were distanced. Time 3:54 1/2.

Betting: Dan N., 2 to 5; Silky, 2 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Don, 8 to 1. Place: Dan N., 1 to 2; Silky, 2 to 1; Pat, 7 to 1; Don, 8 to 1. Mutuals paid $6.50.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

A Political Concession—Other Home News Notes.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Oct. 18.—(Special Correspondence.) Upon petition of members of the various political parties in the home, Gov. Rowland recently made what is a virtual concession to party organizations in permitting a meeting each of the Populists, Democrats and Republicans, contrary to the non-political custom of the various homes. These meetings were allowed under the following limitations: One meeting of each party or class agreed on by the committee and the governor; the governor to preside at each meeting; and no other meetings allowed; no electioneering in barracks; candidates who want to see some of the men, necessarily not many, will furnish names of the men and they will be sent for, and the candidates can meet them in a meeting room. The governor will designate the meeting place, and no other place will be allowed, except that speakers and candidates may attend, accompanied by a few representative members of their parties.

Under this concession the Populists occupied Assembly Hall on Monday afternoon, but the dates for the Republican and Democratic meetings are yet to be agreed upon. There were an even 1200 members of the home present at the last roll-call. The Populists were in a measure an unknown quantity, but it is scarcely liable to be very great as a member of the home. The Democrats won't do anything for us, while the Republicans always have been our friends.

The late Congress, while reasonably generous to the home, passed one new law which is the salary fund of national homes. Somewhere along the yards of red tape, including appointment, the salary has been lost in the shuffle, and no salaries have been paid here for August, September or October. This applies to all the pensioners of the home.

The new pumping machinery at Old Castle Garden is working smoothly, and it furnishes an abundant water supply. ORANGE COUNTY.

THE CLOSE OF THE SUGAR-BEET SEASON.

Eleven Thousand Tons Shipped to the China Factory—Republican Meeting—A Big Rabbit Drive—Other Notes.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 18.—(Special Correspondence.) The sugar-beet season in this county has closed, the refinery at China shutting down Thursday evening. The last shipment of beets from this county was made from Anaheim Wednesday, when about twenty carloads left the Southern Pacific depot.

For the season about eleven thousand tons of beets have been shipped from Orange county to the China factory, which means an income to the farmers of Anaheim, Brea, Fullerton, Garden Grove and Westminster of over $50,000.

There are yet between one hundred and fifty and two hundred tons of beets on the fields in the northern portion of the county, which will be lost to the farmers on account of the factory shutting down so early in the season.

Toward the latter part of the season the beets came in very rapidly, the last few days averaging considerably over three hundred tons. This rush threw the workmen in the refinery behind, so that they will perhaps be several days yet before the work in that department will be entirely cleared up.

The tests have kept up remarkably well for the season, considering the size of the beets, the average to October 18 being 15.3 per cent. sugar and 82.6 purity. The tests for nine shipping days, from October 2 to 18, inclusive, were as follows:

October 2, 15.9 per cent. sugar; 82.6 purity;	October 3, 16.3 sugar; 82.1 purity;	October 4, 16.3 sugar; 82.7 purity;	October 5, 16.3 sugar; 84.5 purity;	October 6, 16.3 sugar; 81.0 purity;	October 7, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 8, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 9, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 10, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 11, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 12, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 13, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 14, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 15, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 16, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 17, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;	October 18, 16.3 sugar; 81.4 purity;

Progress of the Registration—News Notes and Personal.

POMONA, Oct. 18.—(Special Correspondence.) The four local registrars of this city, Messrs. When it is considered that by far the majority of these newly-enrolled voters are young men who are just attaining their majority, it is, to say the least of it, a very important factor in the politics of the State, especially if all other things are equal.

It is also a noticeable fact that these young voters take eager interest in club organizations.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

DEMOCRATIC CITY PRIMARIES TO BE HELD TONIGHT.

The Truth About that "Big" Meeting Which George S. Patton Addressed at Santa Cruz—Political Points.

The Democrats will hold their city caucuses and primaries this evening in accordance with the decision of their committee. They will meet by precincts and make the selections of their delegates in the same manner as was practiced previous to the holding of the last county convention. The scheme of meeting in the evening worked every satisfactorily when tried before by the Democrats, for but comparatively few voters would take the trouble to come out, and so the "programme" element had full swing. The returns from tonight's primaries will be received at the office of J. Marion Brooks in the Downey Block.

From two sources it is ascertained that the meeting at Santa Cruz, which was addressed by George S. Patton, and about which such a glowing dispatch was published in that gentleman's Democratic organ, was a failure. A letter from San Francisco, based upon information obtained from Santa Cruz, states that there were less than fifty persons present at the meeting. Another letter, which the editor of The Times has seen, makes the unequivocal statement that there were, by actual count, just twenty-eight persons present to hear Mr. Patton orate. The weather in the vicinity of Santa Cruz appears to be of hypo-borean temperature when Democratic candidates invade the county. The septentrional gales sweep through their whiskers at a furious rate.

Republican Caucuses.

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock Republican caucuses for the purpose of making up tickets for presentation at the city primaries will be held on Monday, will be convened in all of the wards of the city. The meeting places fixed in the call, with the respective number of delegates to be designated, are as follows:

First Ward—Twenty-four delegates; caucus at Banquet Hall, Chestnut street and Downey avenue.

Second Ward—Forty-four delegates; caucus at Redondo last night, 8 o'clock. The Third Ward—Forty-one delegates; at Los Angeles County Republican Clubrooms, No. 110 West Second street.

Fourth Ward—Twenty-one delegates; at No. 1700 Grand avenue (Seventeenth and Grand).

Fifth Ward—Fifteen delegates; Thirtieth and Main streets, last night, 8 o'clock. The Sixth Ward—Eighteen delegates; Dalton's Hall, Washington street and Central avenue.

Seventh Ward—Thirty-five delegates; at Operahouse Hall.

Eighth Ward—Twenty-three delegates; No. 206 Commercial street.

Ninth Ward—Eighteen delegates; Korbel's Hall.

None but known Republicans will be allowed to participate in the caucus, and only those who are shown by the Great Register to be residents of the ward. In case of removal since registration proof of their bona fide residence in the ward must be made to the satisfaction of the caucus at which application for the privilege of voting is made.

Political Points.

The Third Ward Republican Club will meet in the rooms at No. 110 West Second street tonight at 8 o'clock. The Eighth Ward Republican Club will also hold a rally at Painter's Hall on Aliso street.

James McLachlan and A. B. Campbell spoke at Redondo last night, while Maj. Donnell and H. A. Pierce addressed the Republicans of Rivera.

The organization of the Fourth Ward Republican Club will be completed tonight in the hall at the corner of Grand avenue and Seventeenth street. An informal meeting was held on Monday evening, when temporary officers were elected and arrangements made for active work in the city campaign.

George M. Holton and R. A. Ling addressed a mixed audience of Sixth Ward Republicans last night at Forester's Hall, corner of Main and Fifteenth streets.

This evening is to a lively one with the local Republican clubs of this city. The Third Ward Club holds a business meeting and the Fourth Ward Club meets for permanent organization. At the City Gardens the Seventh Ward Republican Club will, after a short street parade, hold a mass-meeting, to be addressed by several prominent speakers. The officers and members of the Eighth Ward Republican Club will make a special effort to render their meeting in Painter's Hall, No. 233 Aliso street, one of interest to those attending, and of profit to the party. The meeting will be addressed by R. A. Ling, C. M. Simpson, W. S. Wright and others.

Refreshments will be served, and a good time generally is expected.

"At-Lankershim a Republican mass-meeting will be held this evening, at which addresses will be made by some prominent speakers from Los Angeles.

Tomorrow evening a Republican mass-meeting will be held at Chatsworth Park. The Veteran Soldiers' and Sailors' Republican Club will also, in the rooms of the Los Angeles Republican Club, hold a business meeting, to be followed by addresses from several able speakers.
